AMERICA'S SPECIAL HERITAGE
THE FAMILY BIBLE WITH FAMILY RECORDS

Some family records were kept from the early seventeenth century, but the great majority of them date from the era of the large family Bible, that is, between 1790 and 1890.

The family Bible was once an essential feature of a young couple's home and was a wedding gift, the record of the marriage being the first entry. Sometimes the record of the husband's family was copied into it. Usually it was carefully kept. During the last half century, as younger members left the old home, the large Bible was left behind. Many of them have been lost or otherwise destroyed. Others are tucked away in attics, in old bookcases or stored with miscellaneous household relics, and so face destruction without the knowledge of the family which might not realize its importance.

There are many residents in Mishawaka and the surrounding area who may possess one of these heritage treasures and may wish to loan it for display.

Fragile Bibles will be placed in locked cases. All will be protected. Records in these old Bibles are valuable. If the person loaning a Bible will permit, members of the D.A.R. will make copies of the family record pages. One copy will be held at the public library and the other will be on file with the Indiana State Registrar of the D.A.R..

Bibles may be brought to the library on January 13th or 15th. A member of the D.A.R. will be there to receive them.

For further information contact the Registrar of the Mishawaka D.A.R., Mrs. Hattie J. Phillips, 16190 Ireland Road, Mishawaka, phone BL 5-4570 or the Mishawaka Public Library, phone BL 9-5277.
